Description

Vintage Child's Leather Boxing Gloves.

A pair of tan leather boxing gloves crafted by Frank Bryan, a known maker of sports equipment in the early to mid 20th century. These gloves, with generously padded knuckle area, are made from high-quality brown leather with laced palms, the soft leather having a nice used patina about them. Each glove bears the original cloth trade label on the cuff, Frank Bryan Ltd. Trademark, Makers London.

These gloves are not only a fine example of early boxing gear but also a striking decorative piece. Their used condition adds to their authenticity and historical value, making them a notable collectible.

Frank Bryan Ltd. was a British manufacturer of sports equipment, particularly well-known for producing boxing gloves and cricket gear during the early to mid 20th century. Based in London, the company was recognised for its high-quality craftsmanship and was one of several reputable British firms supplying gear to amateur and professional athletes during that era.
