Description

Antique Convertible Snooker / Dining Table.

A fine quality revolving snooker/dining table with good colour and patination. The table is made of walnut with four turned legs with metal adjusters for levelling the table. The playing surface is a slate bed covered in 100% English Wool napped cloth. The pockets are leather covered with net bags with the brass work being set into the top surface of the cushions. The table dates from 1880 and as a spacious dining table can seat 10 people comfortably. The snooker unit is pivoted at each end of the table, and by pulling- out two wooden retaining slides, it can be revolved easily through 360 degrees to reveal the billiard surface. When returned to a dining table the surface is seated level with the surrounding frame. When the table is in the correct position it is always secured by pushing-in the two retaining slides.

There is a manufactures plaque at one end 'E.Wilder, manufacture, Newlands, Peckham Rye, S.E'.

This table will be supplied with balls for snooker and pool, two cues and one rest. It is a great table that plays as good as it looks.
