Description

Vintage Mahogany Gaming Card Shoe, Blackjack, Poker & Chemin de Fer.

Elevate your card games with this exquisite French mahogany and aluminium card dealer's shoe, perfect for blackjack, poker, and the sophisticated Chemin de Fer. A Chemin de Fer rules plaque is elegantly displayed on the side, guiding players through the game's intricate tactics, essential for avoiding costly errors in this strategic, high-stakes variant.

Designed with both style and functionality, the shoe features a weighted slider to keep cards neatly at the front, adding a professional touch to your home or casino table. The cards are for show only and do not come with the card shoe.

Chemin de Fer, the original form of baccarat, is a fast-paced European casino classic where players bet against one another rather than the house. Unlike modern Punto Banco baccarat, Chemin de Fer gives the Banker and Player discretionary choices, making each hand a strategic test of skill. Players take turns managing the bank and dealing cards, aiming to create a hand totaling closer to nine than the banker using two or three cards.

Popularised in James Bond novels and films such as Dr. No and the 1967 Casino Royale, Chemin de Fer brings glamour, strategy, and excitement to every game. Perfect for collectors and gaming enthusiasts alike, this vintage card shoe combines heritage, elegance, and practicality for an unforgettable gaming experience.
