Description

Chrome Art Deco Coat Rack.
A superb and authentic Art Deco coat rack dating from around 1930. This wonderful, untouched example features cast chrome-plated end brackets supporting a square bar fitted with three sliding hooks, allowing the spacing to be adjusted to suit your needs.
Beautifully simple in design, the rack retains all of its original character and period charm. The movable hooks glide smoothly along the bar, providing flexible storage for coats, hats, bags, scarves, and everyday accessories. Combining practical functionality with the clean lines and understated elegance associated with the Art Deco period, it makes both a useful and decorative addition to the home.
Crafted from solid metal with a polished finish, this is a versatile piece that would sit equally well in a hallway, kitchen, boot room, mudroom, bedroom, man cave, or garage. Its industrial influence and timeless design ensure it complements both traditional and contemporary interiors.

Condition is good and structurally sound, with age-related wear and patina consistent with nearly a century of use. Ready to mount and enjoy.
